INTRODUCTION FOR PATRICK DONADIO

In today's high-tech world, good old-fashioned, verbal communication is not as good as it used to be.

For the past three decades, Patrick Donadio has guided leaders and their organizations with powerful presentations and one-on-one business communication coaching. From the boardroom to the classroom, he helps people lead more effectively, communicate more clearly, present more powerfully, and increase profits – in less time!

As Certified Speaking Professional (CSP), Patrick has spoken nationally and internationally and has appeared on the same programs with such renowned speakers as: Earvin "Magic" Johnson, LA Lakers point guard, Joan Lunden, former Good Morning America host; George Will, ABC TV news analyst; and Comedian Jeff Foxworthy... just to name a few.

Patrick is one of only a few people worldwide to have earned both a Certified Speaking Professional designation from the National Speakers Association, and a Master Certified Coach designation from the International Coach Federation.

As an executive/business coach, Patrick works with "C" Suite Executives, Business Owners, Leaders, and other Professional Services Providers (Consultants, Lawyers, Accountants, Physicians...) to improve communication skills and grow their business.

Patrick has an MBA and as an educator has taught at the Weatherhead School of Management, University of Notre Dame, The John Glenn School of Public Affairs and Ohio State University.

Donadio has appeared in and on various broadcast media. And in 1991 and 1994, he served as a "Goodwill Ambassador" to Japan.

Patrick's unique blend of "proven, practical information" and "stories" will help you learn how to: “ _____ ”
